Business Advisor

As a business advisor at Banque Populaire group, I am in charge of a portfolio of small and medium sized companies, ruled by corporate laws of France or Luxemburg, craftsmen and shopkeepers with a turnover below €2 million. More precisely, I have to boost the portfolio and manage the risk by doing financial analysis. The other side of my mission is to canvass potential customers located between Metz (57) and Luxemburg. As regards the management-related aspects of my position, I am the deputy director of a branch composed of 8 employees. I aspire to become a corporate banker to manage bigger businesses or to get a position in a investment capital company. I am geographically mobile within the French territory but also abroad.
