Job for apprentice waiter

At the beginning, I came to work in England to perfect my English. To make it, I have to be just with English people, and this job should be perfect for that so I'm really motivated.

I am very dynamic, hardworking and pleasant, my relatives have no problem with that.

I have experience in restauration because I'm in that since I'm a baby; my father and my step father has restaurants and hotel in Saint-Tropez and Courchevel.

So I worked every summer season in these restaurants since two years, and I like that very much.

I'm really interested by having a job in your restaurant, and I think it can be a good opportunity for me.
